

International Conference on Cognitive Decline and its Economic Consequences

KEIO
AGEING
WEEK

It is postulated that cognitive decline in older people will become more prevalent with the ageing of society, which will have enormous economic implications. To address this issue, the World Economic Forum's Global Agenda Council on Ageing will be holding a series of symposiums around the world. To kick off the project, Keio University will cohost the first symposium in Tokyo, which will focus on the medical aspects of cognitive decline and the impact of cognitive decline from the perspective of the economy and financial sectors.

Monday, 5 October 10:00-17:00

Tuesday, 6 October 9:30-12:30

North Building Hall, Mita Campus, Keio University
